“ I've known Frankie since he was a little kid we all grew up together. I have so many memories of you. I remember right after Beverly died me you and Julie watching the movie City of Angels and you drinking a 2 liter Sunkist and dropped it in the floor and it spinning and spraying all of us. You always was there and will be missed. Love you. You are in a better place. I will see you on the other side. LULU's

“ I've known Frankie since we were kids, when I lived on Virginia Street in Gardendale . It was a dead end street, so Frankie would climb over the fence. To come and play with me , Christy and Andrea Hackbarth and my sister Tiffany Bell. He was such a sweet and caring child, and those wonderful qualities carried on with him into adulthood . Plus much more, he would help anyone who was in need . His heart was bigger than earth and beyond. I will truly miss you, Frankie.

“ I think a part of me, deep down always held out hope that Frankie would return to me. The old saying, "if you love something let it go"... We were better when we were together. Our demons a little less evil. I had never known love before him. I had never known that I could be beautiful, before him. And for that I am forever thankful. I'm blessed to have known his love. He had an old soul that was beautiful. And when he looked at you with eyes that smiled, you were the only person in the world. He will forever be a part of my soul and he will be so dearly missed.
