“ I remember Aunt Henrietta and Uncle TJ when we went to visit Grandma and Grandpa from North Carolina. She were always so sweet and I remember her smile. I went to Ala to have open heart surgery in 1976 when I was 8 years old. When we went home that was the last time my two sisters and I saw my daddy Sonny’s side of the family. My parents separated when I was 10.

“ Cousin Henrietta was such a wonderful part of Daddy's life, and the family tree work he did from the mid 1970s until his death. There is innumerable cemeteries the two of them walked through, and newspapers they read.
She is missed my Donna and I, who enjoyed hearing the stories of the two of them "out treeing".
