“ Bro. Jimmy was a VSP (Very Special Person). I doubt that he ever thought of himself as a VIP or a VSP, but he was. When you met him, you knew immediately that there was something different about him. He had a spirit and a glow about him, that let you know that he was one of God's chosen.

No matter what you were talking with him about, the subject always came around to how good the Lord was. He shared how much God had done for him, every chance he was given.

He had a servants heart. You could see that all he wanted, was to share whatever wisdom and knowledge that God had gave him with others. To try to lead others closer to our Lord and Savior, to share the love of God with anybody that he could. To let you know what God had done for you and how He could continue to do for you. If you only Believed in Him.

We began as customers coming in just to get a tire, but left feeling like we had found not just a couple of new Friends, but a couple of new Family members. Like Father like Son...

Many times we'd go by and while my husband was outside with James, I'd be sitting with Bro. Jimmy inside. I can't tell you what all we talked about over the years. But, I can tell you that you didn't leave without having learned more about the Lord.

Bro. Jimmy was willing to serve God in any way that he could. To share whatever he had with others. I honestly believe that he would have given the shirt off his back, if you needed it. Whatever he shared with you was wrapped up in God's Love.

We can ALL know that Bro. Jimmy is with our Lord. He's not suffering or sick any longer. He has a NEW body and a new life over in Glory! He's probably already met Loved ones that's gone on before him, rejoicing with the Saints of old.

I wish that I could have introduced him to my Father, they would have loved to sit and talk about how God does so many wondrous things for us. Many things that we probably don't or didn't deserve. I hope somehow they will meet each other up there and enjoy that Heavenly Home together.

To all of the Chance Family ~ Please, know that each of you will be in our prayers. God Bless each of you every minute of everyday.

*May God be with you and surround you with His Love.
We will miss Bro. Jimmy so much. There will be an empty spot in our lives, but never in our hearts, because the Love that he shared will always be there. He will never be forgotten.
