“ He was the true world's best dad. He was a very hard working, strong willed, but at the same time the most caring, loving, supportive person I could ever have the privilege to know. The best thing is god picked me to be his daughter, and he is my true hero and I will always be his baby no matter how long it is until I get to see him again. He will be greatly missed and our lives and family will never be the same again. I love you daddy and I'll see you again some day.
