“ I loved being around her at ballgames (and yes, even if I wasn't close by I could hear her) and it always made me smile. I treasure memories of conversations with her as a fellow football/baseball mom/friend and I am grateful for her honesty. She always wanted the best for ALL of our kiddos. I have thought of her often these last couple years and how much I missed hearing her cheering loudly for our boys; I am sure she has missed it too. While I am saddened by her earthly passing, I will celebrate that she is no longer hurting and I trust I will see her and we will cheer together once again.
