“ If you know Paul you know that he loved to fish. He was good at it and caught a lot of fish. I would be playing out in the yard with all of my cousins and he would call me over there to look at a huge pan of fish that he had cooked. He would tell me "get you some of this crappie or bass we caught. Boy this stuff is delicious" and it was. I would eat a lot. He would be telling me how and where they were caught. He would make a big story about it and was the best at his stories. He would make me feel like I was involved in some way.....and every time I saw Paul he would ask me "what do you have to trade on". I think of him a lot believe it or not. I will miss him dearly. He was like a brother to me all of my life.

“ When I worked at Miller Steam Plant, Paul was a security guard. The other guards would not let my husband drive me into the plant to drop me off for work even though I was pregnant. Paul told us to drive through the gate he was working and he would let my husband drop me off so I didn't have to walk so far. He always looked out for me there. I will never forget his kindness.

Paul is my cousin and we have lived by each other for about 50 years or so. He watched out for me, when cars would come in my yard he would be looking to see if everything was ok. Many times he brought me plates of food, which I appreciated very much. I will miss him, just knowing he was at home, made me feel safer. And he is home now and having a wonderful time with relatives already gone home. We will see him again and it probably wont be that long. Look for us, Paul.
