“ Growing up, Sam was always happy. He had such a beautiful smile!! Even though Mom and Dad were divorced when we were young, my sisters and I got to spend a lot of time with Sam and Rhonda and our other cousins. (I am sure it is because Aunt Lois, Aunt Gin, and Granny made the effort to get us together.) I will cherish the memories. Thank you Raleigh and Angel for taking Sam to live with you when Rhonda passed away. Sometimes family has nothing to do with blood.

i took care of Sam as a student nurse in mid 80s . We kept in touch many many years . Sam called me often to chat . I was sad to run across his obituary. I wondered over the years what happened to him .. he touched my life . He and his parents even came to my graduation from nursing school..

“ Sambo absolutley loved the Lord. Sambo's favorite things to do was to go to church, listen to gospel music, read his Bible and watch his game shows. I know all of heaven was shouting and the heavenly choir singing when Sambo arrived!!
